

The study of music, according to the curriculum of ABRSM, will be introduced in Christ Church College, Lucknow for the Academic session 2016 – 2017, starting in March 2016. Established in the year, 1939, Christ Church College boasts of being the second oldest school in Lucknow. The Principal, Mr. R. K. Chattree encourages an all-round development among his students, music being an integral part of it. Christ Church College takes pride in being one of the few schools in the city with a choir of above 100 talented students.

Keeping the growth of the students in mind, Christ Church College is incorporating the ABRSM course in order to give a fair chance to the budding talented students both in vocal and instrumental.

The Associated Board of the Royal Schools of Music (ABRSM) is an examination board based in London, UK, which provides examinations in Music at different centres around the world. ABRSM was established in 1889 and is in partnership with four Royal Schools of Music – The Royal Academy of Music, The Royal College of Music, The Royal Northern College of Music and The Royal Conservatoire of Scotland. It is committed to supporting high quality music – making, learning and development throughout the world, and to producing the best possible resources for music. It is the UK's largest music education body offering assessments to more than 6, 30, 000 candidates in 93 countries every year. ABRSM is actively providing education in the field of music in the Northern Region of India, which now includes Christ Church College, Lucknow.

Further information regarding this is available on the college phone no. – 0522 – 2239138.

